Our budding poets performing in our special mentions assembly.

This week . . .

This week has been another incredibly productive one in school. We began with a thoughtful Remembrance assembly, followed by a whole-school focus on Anti-Bullying Week. We were fortunate to welcome Ann Foxley-Johnson, who delivered powerful assemblies that helped our children understand the importance of taking bullying seriously and being consistently kind to one another.

Beyond this, classes enjoyed a range of exciting activities, including visits out of school, parkour events, and a brilliant online Poetry Day with the fabulous children's poet and author Michael Rosen—whose work inspired pupils to create their own poems. Many of these were proudly shared in our special assembly on Friday, and as a published poet myself, I'm so proud of the quality of writing and creativity across school.

Even poetry club joined in the Children in Need spirit with fun Pudsey Bear poems!
What a great week!

Remembrance Day

On Monday, our children and staff came together for a meaningful moment of reflection as we observed the two-minute silence to honour those who have served and sacrificed for our country.

Our Student Council, supported by other pupils, led a thoughtful and moving assembly, sharing important messages and beautifully written poetry about why remembrance matters.

We are incredibly proud of our students for the respect, maturity, and kindness they demonstrated throughout the day.

Leadership Update

We are pleased to share that Mr Piper has taken on the role of Acting Deputy Headteacher, providing additional capacity within our leadership team as we continue to strengthen and support our school community. Alongside this, he will continue in his position as Maths Lead, ensuring consistency and excellence across our curriculum. We know you will join us in congratulating him and thanking him for his continued hard work and dedication.

TT Rockstars – Battle of the Bands Winners!

In his role as Maths Lead, Mr Piper also announced the winners of this week's TT Rockstars Battle of the Bands competition. A huge well done to all pupils for their brilliant engagement and enthusiasm. Congratulations to our year group champions:

Y3: 3P, Y4: 4P, Y5: 5B, Y6: 6A

Fantastic effort from everyone—you've truly rocked it! ★

Our new Playground Leaders engaged in a day of enriching activities and valuable lessons. The leaders participated in sessions focused on important life skills, such as first aid, developing empathy, and exploring various career paths. In honour of Anti-Bullying Week, the group also discussed the importance of kindness, friendship, and standing up for others. They demonstrated outstanding enthusiasm and teamwork, truly embodying the spirit of a Primary Ambassador. The team returned to school buzzing with fresh, brilliant ideas to make our playtimes and lunchtimes even more fun and inclusive for every student. We can't wait to see their plans in action!

Anti-Bullying Week

This week, all classes took part in an inspiring online assembly with Ann Foxley-Johnson, exploring the theme of 'Power for Good'.

The sessions focused on respect, kindness, and how we can continue to be a school where bullying is never tolerated. Our children engaged thoughtfully in discussions and activities, reflecting on the positive choices we can all make.

Our Inclusion Team continues to work closely with pupils where concerns may have been raised, providing guidance and support as a preventative measure. Together, we are committed to ensuring that every child feels safe, valued, and respected at school.
